FOREWORD

Because we feel that it is, and should be, something near and dear to the hearts of every one of us, we have chosen the history of our Alma Mater as a theme of this volume. Since the granting of the State Charter in 1903, this institution has been known as Appalachian State Teachers College. We have tried to present through photographic glimpses some of the activities of the college. Hoping that our efforts may in years

Dedication

To a person we all come in contact with, and to one who has taken a personal interest in our problems during our four years on campus, and has gained our undying admiration as a leader, and our highest esteem as a friend, we, the staff, do fondly dedicate this volume of the 1953 Rhododendron to our Registrar, Mr. Herman Eggers.
